Summary of Incident: On 1/11/2023, deputies responded to a report of a subject inside a vacant residence, "Going hod wild glass breaking." Upon arrival, deputies heard breaking glass and saw an orange glow with smoke coming from inside the residence. Due to not being able to confirm how many individuals were in the residence along with the violent nature of the call, deputies had their department issued firearms drawn at the low ready position and announced their presence. One deputy noticed one male in the living room and pointed his firearm at the male while instructing him to lie on his stomach with his hands out, to which he did. The second deputy noticed the same male who was wearing only jeans and socks. The suspect didn't appear to have any weapons on his person, to which the second deputy transitioned to his department issued CEW. He activated my Taser and pointed it directly on the subject. The subject complied with the deputies' commands while making nonsensical statements about a deer and burning the house. The deputies placed the subject under arrest for the above listed charges and extinguished a fire inside the residence. The Taser was not fired during this incident.

Deputies arrived on scene and located the suspects who were in a verbal argument near a open vehicle. As deputies approached the vehicle, one suspect exited the vehicle, walked toward the back of the car and reached inside. The deputy drew his department issued CEW and pointed it at the subject while giving her commands to not reach into the car. The suspect removed various articles of clothing with price tags on them from the car and threw them onto a nearby vehicle. One deputy observed the subject running and followed the subject until she was able to position her patrol vehicle ahead of the suspect. She exited her patrol vehicle and pursued the suspect on foot before he yielded. Because the suspect was reported to have used a firearm in the crime he was wanted for the deputy drew her department issued firearm and held it at a low ready position. She gave the suspect commands to get on the ground to which the suspect challenged the commands. As additional officers arrived, the deputy transitioned to her department issued CEW to provided a less lethal force option. She drew her CEW, activated it and pointed it at the suspect. An additional deputy on scene drew his CEW, activated it and pointed it at the suspect as well. With the display of multiple force options and continued commands, the suspect ultimately complied with commands and was taken into custody for the above listed charges.
